SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Citizens of Dunbarton :

The superintending school committee herewith present their annual report for the school year ending March 1, 1884 :

The work done by the schools the past year is in the main satisfactory to the committee. The teachers with few exceptions have shown themselves well qualified for school work, and earnestness on the part of scholars has been the rule rather than the exception. Some of the schools have not been so profitable as they might have been had the prudential committees exercised better judgment in employing teachers.

The law requires something more than the mere knowledge of books in the qualifications of a teacher. They must possess a knowledge of teaching and the methods of imparting instruction. Perceiving this deficiency on the part of some teachers, the committee held a day's session at the town hall, in November last, for the purpose of giving instruction in the various modes of teaching, all the schools being closed by order of the committee that the teachers might avail themselves of the privilege of attendance. Their attendance not being compulsory, some absented themselves from the meeting, and we are free to say they were the ones in most need of the instruction.

We would advise all who intend making teaching a profession to take a course of normal training if possible, and attend teachers' institutes whenever practicable.

During the year the committee have made two changes in text books. Quackenbos' grammar, that has been in the schools for over twenty years, has been taken out, and Swinton's put in its place. Harvey's series of readers, the poorest series ever compiled, has been exchanged for Lippincott's series. We believe that the progress of the schools demanded the changes made if we would keep pace with educational work elsewhere. We would recommend that two more changes be made as soon as the law will allow: that Harrington's speller be substituted for Watson's; and Higginson's history for Quackenbos', that outgrew its usefulness over twenty years ago.

Your attention is called to the table appended to this report. A careful examination will convince you that the district school system is a failure, and that we are squandering our money and receiving but little benefit. An examination of the table shows that in district No. 6 the cost per scholar for the summer term was $2.24; fall term, $1.80; winter term, $2.60. In district No. 7 the cost per scholar for the summer term was $8.00; winter term, $11.25.

This fact alone is sufficient to condemn the district system. But another fact equally strong against the system presents itself in the inequality of schooling. The number of weeks schooling in district No. 1 the past year was thirteen weeks; in district No. 6, thirty-one weeks. These facts should be carefully considered and some means devised whereby there shall be somewhere near an equality of schooling and cost per scholar.

We would suggest as a remedy that we adopt the town system, and the whole matter of schools be placed in the hands of a board of education. By that means we should be able to obtain better teachers and an equality of schooling, with less expense than by the present district system.

There have been two terms of high school during the past year. At the present time a select school is in progress at Page's Corner, under the instruction of Miss M. Abbie Colby. District No. 2 is the only school that has a sufficient supply of blackboard. We would suggest that the other districts provide their schoolrooms with an additional number of square feet of blackboard.

During the summer the committee had the blackboards in the several schoolhouses fitted up for school work, but the cost was small, for the amount of blackboard surface amounted to less than one hundred square feet.

In closing, we would urge upon parents the necessity of looking after the schools. It is not only your duty to educate your child, but you are responsible for the results of that education.

REVIEW OF SCHOOLS.

DISTRICT No. 1.—COLBY.

One term—Summer ; Miss Helen M. Caldwell of New Boston, teacher. This was Miss Caldwell's first term. Her educational qualifications, supplemented with a course of normal training, will make Miss Caldwell a valuable teacher. Register imperfect.

DISTRICT No. 2.—CENTER.

Two terms—Summer and winter ; both terms taught by Miss Martha A. Putney of Bow. Miss Putney is an excellent teacher, and succeeded well both terms. Register imperfect.

DISTRICT No. 3.—STARK.

Two terms—Summer and winter ; both terms taught by Miss Mary B. Caldwell. Miss Caldwell possesses qualifications of high order for a teacher, of which the examinations gave ample proof. Register imperfect.

DISTRICT No. 4.—WAITE.

Two terms—Summer term ; Miss Ava L. Hammond, teacher. This was Miss Hammond's first term, and succeeded well. Register perfect.

Winter term ; Miss Lydia Marshall, graduate of Concord high school. Miss Marshall promises to become one of our best teachers. Register perfect.

DISTRICT No. 5.—MONTALONA.

Two terms—Summer and winter ; Miss Clarie L. McGilvray of Merrimack taught both terms. Miss McGilvray's methods of teaching and discipline were highly satisfactory, and the school profitable. Register imperfect.

DISTRICT No. 6.—PAGE'S CORNER.

Three terms—Summer, fall and winter ; taught by Miss M. Abbie Colby. The fact that she taught the three terms is sufficient to show her qualifications and popularity as a teacher. Register imperfect.

DISTRICT No. 7.—STINSON.

Two terms—Summer and winter. Summer term taught by Miss Emma L. Merrill ; winter term by Miss Lizzie A. Rogers.

Both are old teachers and gave satisfaction. A course of normal training would improve Miss Merrill as a teacher. Registers for both terms imperfect.

DISTRICT NO. 8.—WHEELER.

Two terms—Summer and winter; taught by Miss Grace V. Colby. Miss Colby is one of our best teachers and succeeded well as an instructor and disciplinarian. Register perfect.

DISTRICT NO. 9.—BAILEY.

One term—Fall; Miss Martha A. Putney, teacher. Miss Putney succeeded well, as she always does in all schools she is called to teach. Register imperfect.

DISTRICT NO. 10.—RAY.

Two terms—Summer and winter; both terms taught by Miss Lizzie A. Rogers. The schools were profitable, and the district fortunate in securing Miss Rogers' services. Register imperfect.

DISTRICT NO. 11.—BURNHAM.

Two terms—Summer and winter; summer term taught by Miss Estelle G. Wilson. Dissensions in the district rendered the school unprofitable.

Winter term taught by Miss Lizzie J. Buntin, graduate of Colby Academy. A course of normal training, supplemented by her already acquired liberal education, would make Miss Buntin an invaluable teacher. Registers for both terms imperfect.

ROLL OF HONOR.

DISTRICT NO. 1.—Summer term: Addie R. Haseltine.

DISTRICT NO. 2.—Summer term: Anne I. Wilson, Selma Petzcoldt, Gertrude Nute, Mahon Nute. Fall term: Sarah E. Wilson, Henry Caldwell, Willie Caldwell, D. Edward Jameson.

DISTRICT NO. 3.—Summer term: Evelyn B. Burroughs, Arthur W. Emerson, Mary E. Emerson, Carrie Emerson. Winter term: Arthur W. Emerson, Mary E. Emerson, Carrie Emerson.

DISTRICT No. 4. — Winter term : Fred P. Trask.

DISTRICT No. 5. — Summer term : Alice Woodbury, Mary E. Woodbury. Winter term : Mary E. Woodbury.

DISTRICT No. 6. — Summer term : Addie L. Fitts, Edward J. Mills, Charles O. Mills. Fall term : Belle Fitts, Alice Fitts, Charles O. Mills, Nellie Walker.

DISTRICT No. 7. — Summer term : Cora M. Chamberlin. Winter term : Cora M. Chamberlin, Susie M. Law.

DISTRICT No. 8. — Summer term : Benjamin H. Wheeler, Scott M. Wheeler. Winter term : Grace E. Hadley, Benjamin H. Wheeler, Scott M. Wheeler.

DISTRICT No. 9. — Fall term : I. Maude Putney, May L. Nichols, John Nichols.
